Alex – We’re going to hold off on the video for now, so we can remove that text. Since the site/text on the site may change as we go through reviews, we don’t want to create a how-to video that uses screencasts of a different site than the user sees. Once the site is released and final, we can create a short ~1 minute promo-style video that briefly shows users where to click and, briefly, how to filter data. We can post it on EPA’s unlisted youtube page, so it will be easy to embed.

Good Afternoon Everyone,

I am reviewing the National PFAS Data Explorer pending actions that I'm aware of and noticed the following: The National PFAS Data Explorer information page says, 'More information about navigation [link to how-to video to be added].' Who is creating the video, where will it be posted, when and by whom? Please advise.

Thanks,

Alex
